Annotation: In this article, the importance of changes in society in enriching the English language, the use of modern pedagogical technologies in the teaching and learning of the English language today, the role of the English language in the world, various principles in the process of teaching the English language based on the requirements of the current era and the role of methods is described in detail.

Key words: english language, pedagogical technologies, higher education institutions, functional process, intellectual aspect.

Introduction: Today, the use of modern pedagogical technologies in the teaching and learning of the English language is developing consistently and sustainably in all educational institutions, and is also being widely implemented. As a result, the variety of training rooms in all educational institutions is increasing, creating rich opportunities for pupils and students, as well as opening wide opportunities for effective teaching and learning. As the number of students learning English is increasing day by day around the world, there is an important issue, resource centers in all educational institutions require the formation of a resource that covers the necessary guide materials for learners based on modern methods.

Literature analysis and methodology: The chain of modern pedagogical technologies, strategies, methods and principles in teaching English is a criterion for organizing interactive lessons and the potential for interest is sufficiently developed, as a result of which the positive characteristics of the individual potential of cooperation methods are improved accordingly. Nowadays, the importance of learning English in Uzbekistan is much higher than before. A number of English language experts are implementing new methods and ways of learning English. This will definitely increase the effectiveness of teaching foreign languages. Teaching using technology has several unique advantages. In addition, it greatly increases the efficiency of the teaching system and, in turn, helps the language learner to keep up with the times and move forward.

Technology is gradually replacing traditional teaching. Today, a number of new programs and shows that help to teach English are regularly broadcasted on television. The fact that some teachers do not know how to apply and do not use technologies during English lessons leads to some boredom of students. It is for this reason, that is, in order not to extinguish the enthusiasm of the learner, the use of technologies and at least the computer during the lesson ensures that the learner's interest increases.

Results: It is known that educational materials prepared according to the learner's age, interest, abilities, and mastery of the lessons will definitely be effective. There are many countries in the world and many languages spoken by their people. Language is a great wealth, a unique value and a priceless property of every nation. Every nation, every nation has its own language that it respects and honors. We all need international languages to communicate with each other. One of them is English. English is the international language of communication for all mankind. Early learning of a foreign language develops the speech-motor apparatus and, in addition, is a good prevention of speech defects. Practice shows that specialists who know one or more foreign languages, in addition to knowledge of their main profession, in order to be aware of the latest developments in the world of science and technology, occupy a great position in the labor market.

Discussion: A few years ago, the school curriculum was not as complicated as it is now, before children learned only English, today - two, three. In specialized educational institutions, children study according to a more intensive program. In this regard, the head of our state, many countries are attracting teachers. This is a great opportunity for teachers to work on themselves and improve their knowledge. Of course, English is the most widely spoken language in the world. Globally, the largest number of English speakers speak English as a first or second language. Undoubtedly, no other language in the world can match English in terms of its huge popularity.

Conclusion: In conclusion, it should be said that today the English language is of international importance, it is popular in almost all civilized and developed countries of the world. A lot of attention is paid to learning foreign languages in our country. In particular, in various fields, schools, lyceums, pre-school and higher educational institutions, great conditions are being created for young people to learn the language.
